

Spring 2011 Meeting:

Come along to the ATRIF meeting – preliminary details below

ATRIF is a group of professional air transport market analysts, operations researchers, economists, and forecasting practitioners, predominately from the manufacturing, supplier, financing, airline, and consulting community; it is a non-for-profit organization run for and by the membership. The meetings are not open for media reporting. We operate on the Chatham House Rule whereby all information and discussion is non-attributable i.e. participants are free to use the information received, but neither the identity nor the affiliation of the speaker(s), nor that of any other participant, may be revealed outside of the meeting. The meetings usually attract around 40-50+ delegates and are often lively and engaging with an emphasis on discussing key issues and current events affecting the industry

Date:	Tuesday, April 10th , 2012 (Tour: April 11th , 2012)
Venue:	Boeing Commercial Airplanes Seattle, Washington, USA
Hotel Info:	TBA  a negotiated rate will be available for ATRIF attendees
Registration:	Registration Fee: Approx $200 check or cash (sorry no cards) You can pay at the door and receipts will be issued.  Pre-registration is preferred. Please pre-register at http://www.atrif.org/registration.html with your details including; name, title/position, organization &amp; e-mail  A business card & ID will be required to gain entrance
Included:	The meeting fee includes breakfast, lunch, coffee breaks and copies of meeting materials.

Please refer to www.atrif.org for latest information about the event – this document will be updated with the latest details periodically approaching the meeting date